The RYM Church Internship Program is designed to: 1) serve the local church in reaching and equipping junior and senior high school students for Christ in the context of its’ own church body and community; 2) to train and equip those who desire to minister to such students in and through the local church; and 3) to encourage aspiring ministers of the gospel in the legitimacy and merits of long-term ministry to youth and families. In effect the RYM Church Internship is an apprenticeship that will benefit both the local church and intern in their present and future ministries.

The purpose of the RYM Church Internship Program is to provide interns with practical training and experience in youth and family ministry, a sound biblical and theological education, and a coherent philosophy of ministry that reflects the principles, presuppositions, and goals of Reformed Youth Ministries.

In the short term, we believe that the RYM Church Internship Program will provide local churches with added, more affordable help in their ministry to covenant children and outreach to un-churched students in their communities. We also believe that the ministry of the church to youth and families will be enriched for the long term as RYM is instrumental in providing them with youth and family ministers, directors, and leaders who are more experienced, educated, and intentionally directed in ministry. Through the RYM Church Internship Program Reformed Youth Ministries and participating local churches and seminaries form a three-fold partnership in training and preparing the future leaders of the church in their callings as ministers of the gospel in general and ministers to youth and families in particular.

Local churches that desire to have an RYM church intern in their local context must:

1) Enter into a partnership with Reformed Youth Ministries via a RYM/Local Church Affiliation Agreement in which the partnering church agrees to the terms and conditions of the RYM Church Internship Program. The purpose of the affiliation agreement is to ensure clear communication and agreed upon expectations between the local church and Reformed Youth Ministries regarding the RYM Church Internship Program so that the interests of the local church, the RYM church intern, and Reformed Youth Ministries are best served. The affiliation agreement sets forth the responsibilities of both the partnering church and Reformed Youth Ministries in implementing and sustaining the RYM Church Internship Program in the context of the local church.

2) Ensure that the primary mentor for the RYM church intern in their church (youth minister, director, leader, or pastor, church planter, etc) attends the RYM Youth Leader Training Conference annually and agree to impart the RYM philosophy of ministry in their church’s ministry to youth and families as well as assisting the RYM church intern in the learning and application of that philosophy of ministry.

RYM CHURCH INTERN ACCOUNT DEFICIT POLICY

All RYM church interns and their partnering church mentors will be given the following financial information via email on a monthly basis:

1. A financial statement revealing the interns income, expenses, and account balance
2. A donor statement revealing the names, addresses, and donation amounts of all donors who have given to the intern’s account in the given month

If the RYM church intern’s account reaches $5000 positive balance, the intern and the partnering church mentor will be notified immediately and a strategic fundraising plan will be instituted as soon as possible.

If the RYM church intern’s account reaches a $2500 positive balance then a spending freeze will immediately go into effect for all associated and programming expenses until the account reaches a balance greater than $2500. If there are not enough funds in the intern’s account to cover his/her salary, then he/she will be paid only what is in the account after health insurance for the month has been paid. In addition, the intern will give a weekly report to the RYM Board and the partnering church via email showing both the names (at least two people per week) of those from whom they requested support and the specific amount requested.

If the RYM church intern’s account reaches a $0 balance then the intern’s salary will be withheld until the account balance reaches a positive balance after insurance has been paid for the month. Again, the intern will be paid only what is in the account after insurance for the month has been paid (NOTE: the intern’s health insurance will continue to be paid by RYM at this stage).

If the RYM church intern’s account reaches a month ending $1,000 deficit then the intern’s relationship with RYM will be terminated along with all insurance benefits. The partnering church will then be responsible for paying one half of the deficit to RYM and RYM will absorb the other half.

I do hereby agree to all the terms described in the RYM Church Intern Account Deficit Policy:

GUIDELINES FOR ASSIGNMENTS OF RYM CHURCH INTERNs

I. GENERAL GUIDELINES

A. In making placement decisions for RYM church intern-applicants, a number of considerations must be made.

* Male or female?

* The personality of the intern-applicant (self-starter, dependant, capable). The recommending RUF campus minister, local church pastor, youth minister, etc. must help the RYM Training and Internship Committee understand everything about the candidate.

* Personality of the church considered for placement.

* Personality, manner, style of the youth minister, pastor, or church planter under which the intern will minister.

* How has a particular youth minister, pastor, or church planter handled church interns in the past? Are they willing to devote the time needed to monitor the church intern's study program and determine what assistance the church intern needs?

* Is the youth minister, pastor, or church planter under which the intern would minister a church intern recruiter? Are his recruits ready to become good interns?

* Money: (a) Some local churches may be more advantageous for the intern-applicant's fundraising than others. (b) The assignment must help the intern back home; his or her support base must be enthusiastic about the assignment.

* Local factors: (a) The community in which the local church is situated, (b) size of the church, (c) presbytery.

B. The church intern may or may not be assigned to a local church ministry in which they were involved as a high school student. Placement will be at the discretion of the RYM Training and Internship Committee and/or the RYM Executive Director.

C. The church intern position is a learning/ministering position. Therefore, assignment will involve the following order of considerations:

1. The areas in which the church intern needs to grow and learn as well as his or her abilities and gifts;

2. The local church ministry with which he or she is most compatible;

3. The youth minister, pastor, or church planter best able to train and use the church intern to his or her potential; and

4. The best assignment for the ministry of Reformed Youth Ministries as a whole at that particular time. Ideally, all factors interact to give a harmonious decision.
II. GUIDELINES FOR DETERMINING ASSIGNMENTS

The RYM Training and Internship Committee will coordinate various opportunities and assignments. The church intern’s application will be reviewed by the Training and Internship Committee to determine an initial composite description of his or her needs, abilities, and gifts. The Executive Director will see that the following are carried out.

A. Receive input from the church intern-applicant’s pastor, former youth director, RUF campus minister, etc. concerning the applicant’s:
   1. needs,
   2. abilities and gifts, and
   3. assignment possibilities.

B. Talk with the church intern-applicant concerning his or her:
   1. understanding of his or her needs,
   2. understanding of his or her abilities and gifts,
   3. desires for assignment and reasons for those desires.

C. A member of the RYM Training and Internship Committee will talk with the youth minister, pastor, or church planter of the local church ministry that appears to be the best assignment for that church intern concerning:
   1. the needs of the church intern,
   2. the abilities and gifts of the church intern, and
   3. the reasons of the Training and Internship Committee for feeling that particular local church ministry to be the best assignment for the church intern.

D. The youth minister, pastor, or church planter of the local church that appears to be the best assignment for the church intern will:
   1. be allowed time to:
      a. contact the church intern’s former youth director, pastor, RUF campus minister, etc.
      b. contact the church intern after first notifying the RYM Executive Director
   2. have the right and prerogative to question, challenge, and reject the Training and Internship Committee’s assignment possibility.
PERSONNEL POLICY

EFFECTIVE DATE OF EMPLOYMENT

RYM church intern employment is normally considered as a yearly term of June 1 through May 31. It is our desire that church interns serve for two years on site in a partnering local church with an additional one to two years (depending on degree) on site at a partnering seminary. Effective dates related to insurance, pay, operation and administration, and programming expenses will be adjusted for a campus intern with an effective date of employment other than June 1.

HOURS OF WORK

A normal work week will consist of 55 hours (15 hours of which is part of the campus intern study program) during a 5 or 5 1/2 day work week. Ministry does not fit into set office hours of “8:00 A.M. - 5:00 P.M.”, Monday through Friday. Much work will be accomplished at night (e.g., large group meetings, small groups, appointments with students, making new contacts). There will be work on weekends (e.g., conferences, get-togethers for sporting events, special outings, projects, trips). Therefore, church interns shall not assume weekends are “free-time” without first consulting with the youth director, pastor, or church planter under whom they work.

VACATION

1. First year church interns are allowed two weeks of vacation.
2. Second year church interns are allowed three weeks of vacation.
3. Vacation dates must have approval of both the youth director, pastor, or church planter and the RYM Executive Director.
4. Vacation time is not cumulative or redeemable for salary.

HOLIDAYS

The following days are considered official, paid holidays if they do not conflict with ministry responsibilities:

   Thanksgiving and the day after Christmas plus two days
   New Year’s plus one day
   Two days for Spring Break or Good Friday
   July 4th - Independence Day

Church interns who are required to work on an observed holiday shall be granted another work day off with pay or an additional day of vacation for each holiday worked.

COMPENSATORY TIME

When a work week consists of considerably more than 55 hours and more than 5 1/2 days, a church intern should seek to take off an additional day the following week. Such time off does not accumulate.

SICK LEAVE

Time missed through illness, death in the immediate family, or severe weather is excused. Other time must be made up or pay forfeited, unless an excused absence is granted. Church interns may be excused for the above reasons for a maximum of fifteen days in any calendar year, unless a truly extraordinary circumstance occurs. This time is not cumulative and may not be arbitrarily taken as time off.
INSURANCE

Medical insurance coverage for church interns will be in the Reformed Youth Ministries plan. Our carrier has a one-month waiting period after initial employment, so coverage normally begins July 1.

PAY AND EXPENSES

1. Church interns will be paid weekly.
2. Normal pay day is Friday of each week.
3. Financial categories are set by the RYM Training and Internship Committee and/or the RYM Executive Director.

LINES OF AUTHORITY

Youth ministers and pastors are responsible to the local church session or in the case of church planters the presbytery that oversees their work. RYM church interns are hired by the RYM Board through her Training and Internship Committee. While on site in the local church, church interns work under the supervision of the RYM trained youth minister, pastor, or church planter responsible for the work in that particular local church. Final responsibility for the overall ministry (development, training, and ministry on site in the local church) of the church intern lies with the office of the RYM Executive Director.

DRESS AND DEMEANOR

Dress in a manner that will bring respect to yourself, your fellow staff, the local church, and Reformed Youth Ministries. Reformed Youth Ministries justifies its existence with a single purpose: to glorify God, to promote the image and Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. We should seek to please Him in our attitudes and efficiency, and to be of assistance to other staff in their desire to please the Lord.
FINANCES AND PUBLIC RELATIONS

I. FINANCES

A. Church intern must obtain all his or her financial support from individuals and may receive support from their home church and potentially other churches with which they have a natural relationship but only at the direction of the RYM Executive Director.

B. Because this is a “learning/ministering” program, pay is at a basic subsistence level.

C. Church interns must raise a certain dollar amount based on the following categories. The figures shown, referred to as basic monthly salary, are for a single person right out of college. The actual dollar amount needed by a campus intern will vary with the length of time out of college, marital status, financial obligations, etc.

b. Conferences – Related costs for RYM ministry-at-large conferences.

c. Travel – Cost of travel to and from certain ministry events.

D. If the funds are not available, the campus intern will not be paid. Funds are allowed to build up in the church intern’s account.

E. The expenses incurred under Associated and Programming are not completely paid for during someone’s internship. Any remaining funds following the internship go to the general fund of Reformed Youth Ministries to cover other Associated, Programming, and Training costs as set forth in the policy, “Fund Balance Remaining in a Church Intern’s Account.”

II. PUBLIC RELATIONS-DEVELOPMENT

The church intern is expected to do the necessary public relations work required to develop, maintain, and service his or her individual support base. This includes such items as a mailing list of individuals who are interested in him or her and his or her ministry; maintaining regular contact with such individuals through personal visits, telephone conversations, letters, and newsletter; and completing monthly reports on time.
PRIORITIES FOR RYM CHURCH INTERNS

1. Individual Support Base.

2. Study Program (15 hours per week)

3. To understand ministry and do ministry

4. One-to-One
   a. Primarily un-churched students, fringe students, and new contact students. Also, some committed students and possibly some rising leadership students.
   b. Identification of the spiritual condition of those in "a".
   c. Determining how they will minister to those in "a" - what they need, frequency, and a plan for the semester.

5. Small Groups
   a. Core Group - Participate as an observer and interact with the youth minister, pastor, or church planter on what is happening. You are not a core group member. You are not responsible for the direction of the ministry. The youth minister, pastor, or church planter is responsible.
   b. First-year church interns are to observe their youth minister, pastor, or church planter leading different types of small groups.
   c. Modified Inductive Studies - Normally a church intern will be leading a modified inductive Bible study (not a modified inductive study of a book or a small group lecture/teaching).
      (1) First semester, first year - one modified inductive Bible study.
      (2) Second semester, first year - one modified inductive Bible study, plus an option for a modified inductive book study, with the total per week not to exceed three (i.e., two Bible studies and one book study). The priority for church interns is to lead modified inductive Bible studies not book studies.
   d. Prayer Group - church intern is to be a facilitator in encouraging small groups for prayer. The groups should be built around common interests-academic pursuits, living areas, concerns (missions, special events/projects, implementation of evangelistic and group strategy). Such groups could share needs and how God is working in individuals’ lives.

6. Assisting youth minister, pastor, or church planter and group in implementation of strategy.

7. Helping in RYM ministry-at-large conferences and events as well as ministry-at-large public relations.
PURPOSE AND GOALS

PURPOSE: Reaching Junior and Senior High School Students for Christ
Equipping Students to Serve Christ in the Church and World

GOALS:

1. Growth in Grace - Students are growing in knowledge and grace.

2. Fellowship and Service - Students are experiencing genuine involvement with other Christians and responding to those in need.

3. Evangelism and Missions - Students are using their gifts for reaching others and growing in their concern for the lost in their community and throughout the world.

4. Biblical World-and-Life View - Students are developing a view of life which relates God and the Bible to all aspects of life.

PRINCIPLES TO BE UNDERSTOOD AND COMMITTED TO:

1. The Scripture is Authoritative - "Rule of faith and practice."

2. Justification - "God reconciling sinners to Himself in Christ."

3. Sanctification - "An understanding of the process."
THREE PRINCIPLES TO BE UNDERSTOOD AND TO WHICH WE CAN BE COMMITTED

I. The Bible is the Word of God given through men by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit.
   A. The Scriptures are trustworthy, inerrant, infallible and authoritative.
   B. The Scriptures are sufficient to reveal God, the way of salvation, and the will of God for men.
   C. The Scriptures are clear enough to be understood by any Christian using ordinary means with the aid of the Holy Spirit.

II. Justification is God reconciling sinners to Himself in Christ.
   A. Justification is God’s declaring the believer forgiven of all his sins on the basis of Christ’s bearing the guilt and penalty of his sins on the cross.
   B. Justification is God’s declaring the believer righteous on the basis of the imputation of Christ’s righteousness to him.
   C. Justification springs from God’s free grace and is received by faith alone.
   D. A proper understanding of justification leads to:
      1. A Christian’s continual acknowledgment that his acceptance by God is based totally on the work of Christ.
      2. A Christian’s understanding that justification is the foundation for all subsequent Christian life and experience.
      3. A Christian’s knowledge that sanctification necessarily flows from justification.

III. Sanctification is God conforming sinners to the image of Christ by the work of His Spirit.
   A. In sanctification the believer is increasingly enabled to die unto sin and live unto righteousness.
   B. In sanctification the believer is progressively renewed in the whole person after the image of Christ.
   C. A proper understanding of sanctification leads to:
      1. A continual engagement by the believer in the means of grace, including scripture, prayer, meditation, mortification of sin, worship and fellowship.
      2. A recognition by the believer that the means of grace are means by which he is aided in his responsibility to seek holiness.
      3. An attitude of dependence upon the Holy Spirit for growth in grace.
      4. A clear understanding of the dynamic tension between justification and sanctification; that is, sanctification springs from justification and justification is the continual ground for sanctification.
      5. A confidence that God will bring the work of sanctification to completion in glorification.
FOCUS

Reformed Youth Ministries exists to serve the church and extend the kingdom through ministry to junior and senior high school students, youth leaders, and parents.

I. Purpose

A. Purpose Statement

1. Students

The basic purpose of Reformed Youth Ministries is to aid the local church (through conferences, training, internships, and resources) in reaching junior and senior high school students for Christ, equipping them to understand the Scriptures, the ministry of the Holy Spirit, and the principles of sanctification (growth in Christian living), so that they may:

a. Grow in the grace of God.
b. Have fellowship with other Christians and be effective in service.
c. Be effective in evangelism and develop a heart for missions
d. Develop a Biblical world-and-life view.

2. Youth Leaders

Reformed Youth Ministries aims to assist youth leaders in carrying out ministry to youth and families in the context of the local church and community through conferences, training, internships, and resources so that the church may become more effective in her ministry to youth and families.

3. Parents

Reformed Youth Ministries aims to assist the church in helping parents through conferences, training, and resources fulfill their scriptural mandate of raising their children in “the fear and admonition of the Lord.”

B. Posture of Organization

Reformed Youth Ministries has the following basic commitments: (1) the church has a responsibility to effectively minister to covenant children; (2) the church must have a heart for reaching un-believing students in her community; and (3) the church in all its aspects should be based upon the principles of the Reformed faith.
I. THE GUIDELINE

A church intern may not date students in the local church where he or she is serving/ministering.

II. THE REASON FOR THE GUIDELINE

Confusion in the minds of the students concerning the role of the church intern could produce difficulties for the ministry of the campus intern.

III. THE RATIONALE FOR THE GUIDELINE

A. Students to whom the church intern would normally be ministering are adolescents, while the campus intern should be considered an adult.

B. Parents would normally frown upon or object altogether to their children dating an adult.

B. It would be more advisable for the church intern to maintain social relationships within his or her peer group.

C. In the function of ministry to adolescents, the factor of romance often confuses proper spiritual discernment by the church intern.

1. Obviously, the discernment of a high school student could also be adversely affected.

2. Experience indicates that students are normally incapable of integrating the emotions of romance and the incisiveness of Biblical doctrine.

D. Should a dating relationship between a church intern and a student be allowed to continue for any time, the church intern’s ability to minister to students could be adversely affected if:

1. the relationship is severed - hard feelings or "broken hearts" would normally result, creating more talk, disappointment, and criticism.

2. the relationship continues - because too much discussion of the specifics of the relationship will probably occur among the students in the group and in the church at large.

E. Any action of the church intern has direct effects upon other individuals and the group. The effect is particularly evident when dating relationships are involved. Perceptions, conclusions, and generalizations concerning dating relationships can potentially cause misunderstandings between the church intern and the person being dated, and others in the group and beyond.

I have read the "Dating Guidelines" and agree to follow them by not dating a student in the local church or community where I will be serving/ministering. I understand that breaking this policy is grounds for termination from my internship with Reformed Youth Ministries.

DRINKING GUIDELINES

I. THE GUIDELINE

A church intern may not drink alcoholic beverages with students.

II. THE REASON FOR THE GUIDELINE

Most high school students are minors and cannot "legally consume" alcoholic beverages.

The perception/misperception of onlookers (students and others) could be that RYM is authorizing drinking by minors.

   Obviously, the discernment of a high school student could be adversely affected, also.
